Varney & Co. – Interview with Stuart Varney and Michael Seifert

Fox Business
February 28, 2023

Stuart Varney: PublicSq., now that is a network of patriotic businesses backed by Donald Trump Jr., they want to stop Americans from giving money to companies that hate them. Michael Seifert is the CEO and Founder of PublicSq, he joins me now. Alright, how are you going to stop Americans from giving money to companies that hate them? How do you do that?

Michael Seifert: Well, that's a great question and thank you for asking, it's good to be with you this morning. We believe that the solution is simple: if we can provide a network of patriotic alternatives to all the major corporate brands today then we can actually shift the power structures of society back towards we the people. Because the people, traditional American values, freedom loving Americans, we can actually equip them to spend money in alignment with their values with companies that don't hate them. And in turn, we equip the truly last emerging market with a marketplace that will suit their needs for all of life's daily purchases and that will send a loud and clear message to America that the patriotic parallel economy is here to stay. We're just getting started. In less than 8 months since our national launch we've become the largest network of patriotic consumers and businesses to ever exist, and we're excited for our next chapter.

Stuart Varney: Does patriotism, the way you're using it, does it sell? Does it work?

Michael Seifert: Absolutely. I believe that the answer to that is undoubtedly yes. If you hear from our businesses, tens of thousands on the platform, they share stories with us daily about how their profits are increasing and their exposure to a group of consumers that are values aligned with them is only increasing through this experience. They've had hard times advertising on platforms like Facebook and YouTube and they're grateful for a platform that not only respects their values but also will help support them in their endeavor to make this country a better place.

Stuart Varney: So -

Michael Seifert: So, yes, the patriot economy is not only a fruitful one and liberating one, it is also a liberating one.

Stuart Varney: So, PublicSq., it's a SPAC deal and you're going public, is it, it's a $200M deal. When do you go public?

Michael Seifert: That's a great question. We are expected to close in Q3. We are proud to partner with CLBR, listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Ultimately, our desire to go public is rooted in this, uh, strong urge to be a company that is by the people for the people and owned by we the people.

Stuart Varney: We hear you. Michael Seifert, thank you very much for being with us - best of luck with PublicSq. We'll see you later. Thanks.

Michael Seifert: Thank you.

Many factors could cause actual future events to differ materially from the forward-looking statements in this communication, including, without limitation: (i) the risk that the Proposed Transaction may not be completed in a timely manner or at all, which may adversely affect the price of Colombier’s securities, (ii) the risk that the Proposed Transaction may not be completed by Colombier’s business combination deadline and the potential failure to obtain an extension of the business combination deadline if sought by Colombier, (iii) the failure to satisfy the conditions to the consummation of the Proposed Transaction, including, among others, the condition that Colombier has cash or cash equivalents of at least $33 million (subject to reduction for (x) transaction expenses of Colombier and PublicSq., up to an aggregate of $15 million, and (y) the aggregate amount of any private financing transactions by PublicSq. consummated prior to closing in accordance with the terms of the Merger Agreement (as defined below)), and the requirement that the definitive agreement related to the business combination between Colombier and PublicSq. The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive. Recipients should carefully consider such factors and the other risks and uncertainties described and to be described in the “Risk Factors” section of Colombier’s initial public offering prospectus filed with the SEC on June 9, 2021, Colombier’s Annual Report on Form 10-K filed for the year ended December 31, 2021, as filed with the SEC on March 22, 2022 and subsequent periodic reports filed by Colombier with the SEC, the Registration Statement to be filed by Colombier in connection with the Proposed Transaction and other documents filed or to be filed by Colombier from time to time with the SEC.
